Building Update

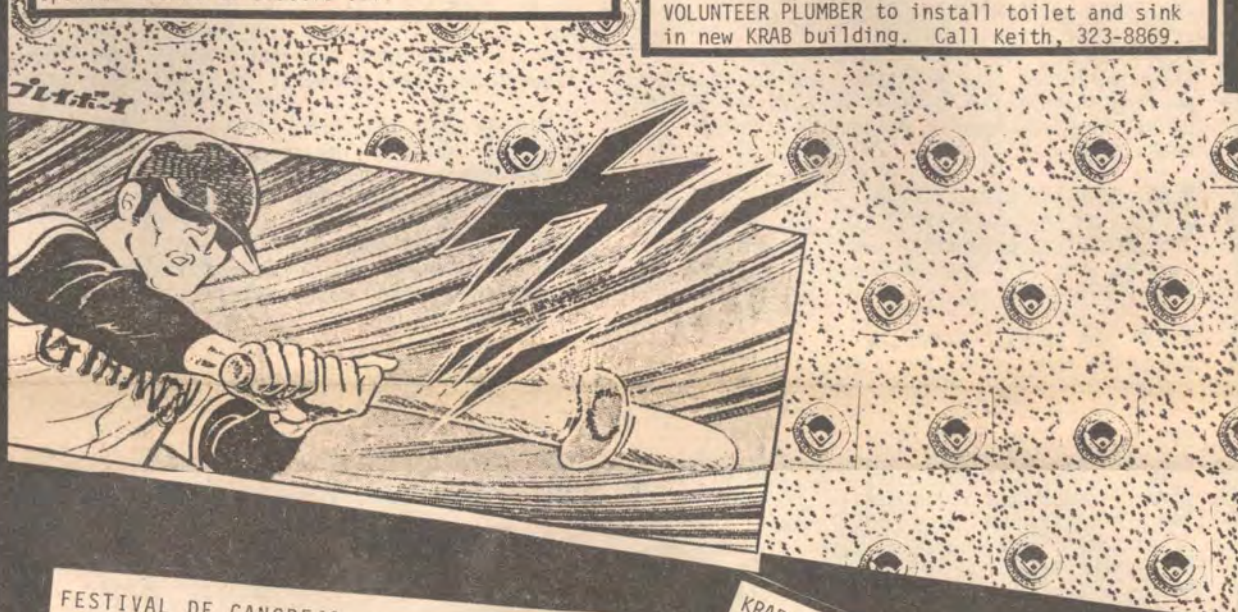

By the time you read this Guide, we hope that the Control Room (broadcast booth), one studio and one production room will be completed. We have had several short work slowdowns...lack of funds to purchase building materials. As you know, we are financing the Building Project with special funds solicited from listeners, businesses and foundations. Because of the urgent need for more funds, the Jack Straw Board is conducting a series of benefit concerts and events to augment the corporate/foundation solicitation. We hope that we will not have to ask you as members to contribute more than you already have with your memberships.

To date, $11,500 has been raised for the Building Fund. We need at least $10,000 more immediately. That will allow us to move out of the firehouse and begin broadcasting in the new building. Completion construction can then adjust to the timing of the major contributions.

There is plenty of work to be done each day.... and especially for those of you who called earlier and said you couldn't frame or drywall, we now need finishing and painting, sweeping and general cleaning like window washing, etc. Everyone has the skills to help! Call Keith or Julie at 323-8869.

Thanks to David Williams and John Eastman for their consistent help on construction. Say, women.....where are you? To date, not one woman has helped on the project! BUILDING KRAB IS WOMEN'S WORK TOO!

Special thanks to Seattle OIC.

FESTIVAL DE CANGREJO

The festival of the KRAB was a cultural and musical delight....from the sounds of various Latin dance rhythms to the music of the Yorubas to Caribbean Indian culture. That kind of diversity is just one example of the programming KRAB brings to the listening audience, commercial free. There is no question that we all had a great time listening to music both familiar and unique...and learning about the roots of the music.

The current economic gloom has also hit KRAB, but you tightened your belts and pledged a total of:

$6,110

If you have pledged, please send in your money. If you didn't and would like to join KRAB, please fill out the coupon on the back page of this Guide.

A special thanks to Gary Bannister, Festival de Cangrejo coordinator, all the many volunteers, staff and board members who spent many hours putting together the weekend. And thanks to The Northwest Passage, KING-TV, the Post-Intelligencer and other media for getting the word out.

3:00 THE FARMER'S DAUGHTER AND OTHER MYTHS ABOUT AGRICULTURE
In Dec., 1979, Sec. of Agriculture Bob Bergland hosted a day-long public meeting in Spokane to listen to farmers from Wash., Ore., Mont. & Alaska talk about the economic and social issues in modern agriculture.

Bergland has actively introduced the concept of "the structure of agriculture" to describe such issues as the number, size and control of farms, the relation between farmers and their suppliers and markets, and other economic and social institutions that affect the food system. There are a number of farmers who don't think these issues are any of the government's business. Others look for more government regulation of farm markets and technology.

Five separate panels, beginning this afternoon and continuing through next Monday at 3 p.m., each with 4 speakers, discuss farm issues, often from a very personal, and conflicting, point of view. Bergland and Rupert Cutler of the Soil Conservation Service wrap up each panel with a series of probing questions.
